

this issue:

The New Look of Pac.com

New Year, New Look...

From our innovative products, unmatched customer service, and our continuing commitment to sustainability - PAC Worldwide is always looking to the future. Our company website is a perfect place to show you our continuing progress. We have recently made big changes to pac.com and are excited to share them with you!

Besides making the site more user friendly, we've added some exciting new features:

Our newly formatted "Green" page presents PAC's earth friendly products as well as showcases our ongoing commitment to offset our carbon footprint. We are proud to do our part to contribute to a more sustainable future.

We are also excited to introduce the newest member of PAC Worldwide to you. His name is BubbleMan and he fights evil packaging dilemmas with his astonishing genius and powerful intellect. You can meet him NOW at www.pac.com.

As a global leader in the manufacture and distribution of protective packaging, PAC Worldwide strives to be one step ahead of the rest. Our customer's needs are our primary focus and offering you the latest and greatest, FIRST, is our priority.

For more information visit:

www.pac.com

